To Whom it may concern, As a professional truckdriver pulling the U.S. Mail it is very important to myself and others that we be able to have instant traffic and weather for the areas we are in or approaching to delay prolonged traffic problems. I use my XM Radio daily to find out and plan around which highways are backed up due to rush hour, construction, or wrecks. If I try to use local channels I have to wait till the music or talkshow stops and they decide to give updates, by this time I may not have the opportunity to take a different route and be delayed by highway problems. The other problem with local radio stations is that they call the highways by name and not by number as many different cities as trucks travel through we can't be expected to know the names of all the cities highways in each state, however we do know what highway number we are on and the different highways available to us on our travels. If the local stations don't like the choices we have (that we are paying for through subscription) then they need to step up to the plate and do a better job not try to limit our Freedoms.

Sincerely,
